Chess: From First Moves to Checkmate Chess: From First Moves to Checkmate: King, Daniel ... In chess, there is a general consensus among players and theorists that the player who makes the first move has an inherent advantage. Since 1851, compiled statistics support this view; White consistently wins slightly more often than Black, usually scoring between 52 and 56 percent. White's winning percentage is about the same for tournament games between humans and games between computers ... First-move advantage in chess - Wikipedia The debate of the best first move is not a new. Historically it is considered that the first move 1.e2-e4 is more aggressive and other moves especially the 1. Nf3 are more quiet and leading to the positional game. This is also reflected in the opening books, the openings after 1.e4 are called open games and after.1d4 we find the closed openings. What is the best first move? - Chess.com There are 20 possible first moves for white, but time and practice has whittled these down to a shortlist of seven or eight that are any good. The best starting moves are 1. d4, 1. e4, 1. c4 and 1. Nf3. Behind these are a second tier of decent starting moves which are sometimes played, and these include 1. g3, 1. b3, 1. f4 and 1. First moves for White - Chess Strategy Online The first few moves of a chess game can be some of the most important moves you make. In those moves, you will establish your early plans and fight for your place on the board. Most beginners don't need to memorize exact opening moves and should instead focus on good opening principles like controlling the center and developing your pieces. The Best Chess Openings For Beginners - Chess.com 1.e4 is the most common opening move in chess. One of the key ideas of this move is to control the center quickly with the pawn which is placed in the center by the first move, also liberating White's light-squared bishop as well as the White Queen. White can follow up by playing Nf3 and moving his bishop to the dangerous c4 square. Best Chess Opening Moves - The Definitive Guide To Opening ... The player with the white pieces always moves first. Therefore, players generally decide who will get to be white by chance or luck such as flipping a coin or having one player guess the color of the hidden pawn in the other player's hand.

White then makes a move, followed by black, then white again, then black and so on until the end of the game.
